Nominees for the Australian Enterprise Awards 2022 are judged based on merit only, not the number of votes received. As such, our internal research team will carefully analyse any information available online and in the public domain, including any material provided by the nominees.

Our process is to reward the parties for their industry excellence, overall performance, customer experience and amazing innovation. We do offer a complimentary package as well as a variety of paid additional benefits for our winners, but these are completely optional and merely supplementary to your award rather than essential.
